Gargi College

Situated in the historic environs of the third city of Delhi - Siri - Gargi College stands barely, 100 metres away from the imposing ruins of Siri Fort wall.

Commemorating the Golden Jubilee of Gargi College, the History Department set up a Heritage Club to promote heritage awareness activities. Three heritage walks were organised – two with the assistance of INTACH and the third guided by faculty member, Dr Ruchika Sharma.

Dr Swapna Liddle (Convenor, Delhi Chapter INTACH) conducted the first walk to Siri. The monuments covered were the tomb and mosque of Makhdum Sahib in Mayfair Gardens, with its 12-pillared tomb and extensive blue paintings inside; Muhammad Wali masjid near the Siri Fort Sports complex; Tohfee wala Gumbad in Shahpur Jat, and the Siri Fort Wall. Ms Aradhna Sinha (INTACH) conducted an excursion to Old Delhi or Purani Dilli. The Old Delhi walk covered a range of monuments, such as, the Jain Mandir, the Shiv Mandir, the Baptist Church, the Sisganj Gurudwara, the havelis and so on.

The annual inter-college History Festival, 'ANTARAAL' covered lesser-known aspects of Delhi's history and was titled 'Dilli-scapes: Delhi's Multilayered Pasts'. The speakers were Prof. Sunil Kumar (Department of History, University of Delhi) who spoke on 'Reconstructing Sufi Habitats: Modern Nizamuddin, Medieval Indraprastha, Klukhari and the Jamuna' and Dr Swapna Liddle (Convenor, Delhi Chapter INTACH) whose talk was on 'The Revolt of 1857 as reflected in the Shahr-e-Ashob Poetry'. The second day of the festival featured a delightful mushaira and Tasveerein Kuchh Kehti Hain: Going beyond the Text, in which, short films on Delhi were screened.

Icing on the co-curricular heritage cake was a weekend trip to Agra and Fatehpur Sikri (25 - 26 February 2017). It included, a visit to the Taj Mahal complex; Tomb of Itmad-ud-Daulah (built like a jewellery box by the Empress Noorjehan for her father); Agra Fort complex; the royal city of Fatehpur Sikri - Buland Darwaza; Birbal's Palace; Jodha's Palace, Ibadat Khana, the Dargah of Salim Chishti and finally, Sikandara - where the greatest emperors – Akbar – rested in peace in the simplest tombs and building reflecting the merging of the Rajput Haveli and Mughal Mausoleum styles, as well as, the use of marble and red sandstone in an aesthetically balanced way.

SWOT ANALYSIS

Strength

- The history department teaches diverse courses that have an interdisciplinary approach. There is applicability and relevance of issues and teaching methodologies.
- Faculty specialization in research is a strength and they are able to provide an in-depth knowledge to the students. Research orientation of faculty allows exposure for students to recent/new trends and methods in the discipline.
- History is a key component of competitive Entrance Exams for IAS, Law, etc. Newly designed courses have helped in improving the career prospects of students.
- Teachers are available after class hours to interact with students and guide them. Teachers encourage student paper presentations to explore new or related areas. This helps in achieving two objectives- develops their writing as well as presentation skills.

Weaknesses

- There is a need for workshops and faculty development programmes for teaching of new courses.
- There is a very high student-teacher ratio.
- The teaching of history requires constant discussion and analysis and this is how students are Inducted and Initiated into the discipline.

In future, the Department endeavours to:

- Make connections between the relevant fields and professions and the academia by making teaching-learning process more research oriented.
- Redefine the importance and need of social sciences in an increasingly technological world.
- Harness the best of digital opportunities for the benefit of the teaching-learning process.
- Encourage students to think beyond disciplinary boundaries.
- To organize more informative lectures for students pertaining to the syllabus.
- Bringing professional resource persons from Museums, Archives, documentation centers, tourism and heritage and Institute of Archaeology for professional guidance to students for future opportunities.
- Introduce an ad-on course pertaining to Art and Heritage for students to help them have a better understanding of relevant subjects.
