

India got its freedom on 15th Aug 1947 and along with the pain of partition. It is considered as one of the biggest human devastation and displacement in the world history. Lakhs of people had to move overnight, leaving behind everything they had. These families have also paid a price for freedom. To remember their sacrifice and to make the present and future generations aware of the sacrifices of these people, every year 14th Aug will be marked as “Remembrance of Partition Horrors Day”. Gargi college along with the entire Nation joins in remembering these unsung warriors of partition. This is a digital exhibition from an ever grateful nation
